

Meet Our Speakers

Trina Anderson is the Student Data Manager for the Center for Educational Performance & Information (CEPI). In this capacity, she is responsible for all student data collection and reporting. This responsibility includes the SRSD, the new Michigan Student Data System (MSDS), as well as direct certification for free lunch, graduation and dropout policy. She also participates in extensive collaboration with other offices that collect student data for program monitoring.

Dr. Ernie Bauer is Director of Research, Evaluation & Assessment at Oakland Schools. He has been at Oakland Schools since 1974. He is currently serving on the OEAA Technical Advisory Committee and the Ed YES! Redesign Work Group. He hopes to see you all again in Ann Arbor at the Michigan School Testing Conference on February 24th & 25, 2009. ernie.bauer@oakland.k12.mi.us

Paul Bielawski has a background that includes educational policy, curriculum, school reform, history of education and technology. Paul's career at MDE span more than 25 years. He is currently Manager of Educational Accountability in the OEAA. His responsibilities include school accreditation, AYP, and School Report Cards. He has coordinated the development of Michigan's school accreditation system as manifest in EducationYes! BielawskiP@michigan.gov

Dr. Theron Blakeslee works with teachers and schools in Ingham County. His focus is on mathematics and science professional development, curriculum alignment and the use of assessment data to inform teaching and curricula. He has also served as Director of the Jackson County Mathematics and Science Center and as a state science education specialist with Michigan Department of Education. Dr. Blakeslee has 10 years of classroom teaching experience in mathematics and science at the middle and high school levels. tblakesl@inghamisd.org

Dr. Frederica Frost has been research director in both California and Michigan local districts, and is now a consultant at Wayne RESA and adjunct professor at Oakland University. FrostF@resa.net

Dana Gosen is Mathematics Education Consultant at Oakland Schools. She has been at Oakland Schools since 2005. Prior to coming to Oakland Schools, Dana taught middle school mathematics in Saginaw Township. She is currently part of the mathematics planning team for the statewide Mathematics and Science Partnership (MSP) grant that is designed to support math and science teacher leaders. She is also the co-developer of a collaborative project between general and special education that aims to increase all students' access to mathematics. She is currently working on a doctoral degree in Teacher Education at the University of Michigan. dana.gosen@oakland.k12.mi.us

Dr's. Kristine and Jim Gullan are consultants at Oakland Schools. Kristine is the high school consultant and Jim is in assessment. They received their Ph.D.s from Wayne State, are married and play with swords. james.gullen@oakland.k12.mi.us and Kristine.Gullen@oakland.k12.mi.us

Laura Schiller, a National Board Certified Teacher, is a Literacy Consultant at Oakland Schools and Director of the Oakland Writing Project. She is currently completing her doctoral work at the University of Michigan in Literacy, Language, and Culture and is co-author of an upcoming Taylor & Francis book on classroom discourse entitled Speak to Me. laura.schiller@oakland.k12.mi.us

Dr. Avner Segall is an associate professor of teacher education at MSU. He is interested in how particular versions and visions of education, teaching, and learning are made possible during pre-service teacher education as well as what they make possible for students learning to teach. His research interests focus on secondary social studies education, critical theory and pedagogy, cultural studies, media education, and qualitative research methods. avner@msu.edu

Roger Verhey, Emeritus Professor of Mathematics at the University of Michigan-Dearborn, has been President of the Michigan Council of Teachers of Mathematics (MCTM) and was awarded that organization's Outstanding Service Award in October 2000 and its Outstanding Contributions to Mathematics Education Award in 2004. He is the Director of the University of Michigan – Dearborn's Center for Mathematics Education. The Center works collaboratively with intermediate school districts to offer professional development activities that can carry graduate credit and that focus on teachers gaining a deeper understanding of the mathematics they teach and the best practices for teaching mathematics. rverhey@umich.edu

Elaine Weber is a Language Arts Consultant at Macomb ISD. She has been a classroom teacher and ESL reading coordinator in a number of schools including working for Department of Defense Dependents Schools. She has been involved in the development of the state's GLCEs and HSCEs. eweber@misd.net